WASHINGTON (AP)—Irate Senators aimed an axe today at plush living quarters, free servants, special trains, and other luxuries for U. S. military personnel in overseas posts.

If the Pentagon fails to curtail "luxury living" by U. S. occupation forces in Germany, Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) told a reporter, Congress will find a way to do it.

O'Mahoney is presiding at closed-door Senate hearings on the multi-billion-dollar annual defense money bill. He said he probably will offer an amendment calling for an end to free servants and special trains to recreation centers for U. S. military forces in Germany.

Two Republican members of the purse-string committee, Ferguson of Michigan and Young of North Dakota, said in separate interviews they will support O'Mahoney.

"The American taxpayers are paying the costs for all these civilian employees of the military in Germany and elsewhere either directly or indirectly," Young said.

Young said the Pentagon informed him that 17,200 German servants "or quarters attendants" were being used by the military last Oct. 31 at an average pay of $37.50 a month.

"That's some $600,000 a month or six million a year," he said.

Young said he learned the armed forces in Japan had hired women secretaries in Australia and supplied them with free Japanese maids, quarters and transportation to and from Japan. He said free servants for both military and civilian workers in Japan ended last July 1.

Ferguson said extravagant living in occupied countries "by our representatives is bad public relations" and "it also tends to soften up our armed forces."

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) said the "high living of military personnel abroad, particularly in occupied countries, not only is a source of great expense but produces resentment and hatred."

All four senators expressed surprise at a report by Chauncey G. Parker, retiring assistant U. S. high commissioner for Germany, that the Army refused to give up free servants, special trains and other luxury items in Germany.

Survey of Quake Damage Lists Only One Casualty, It's Minor

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A survey of earthquake damage the day after the ground rumbled shows Oklahoma, the center of the disturbance, had only one casualty.

Mrs. Della Deshaw, 74, of Tulsa, was cut and bruised by falling plaster at her home.

Otherwise, the damage seems

Commie Newsman Visits Gen. Dean, Says He's Healthy, In Good Spirits

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—A Communist newsman said today he visited Maj. Gen. William F. Dean in a North Korean prisoner of war camp two days ago and found the former U. S. 24th Division commander healthy and in good spirits.

Alan Winnington, London Daily Worker correspondent with the Communist forces in Korea, said he talked with Dean for three hours at a prison camp at Pyongyang.

He said Dean spent most of the time talking about his family at Berkeley, Calif.

Winnington said Dean, who was captured near Taejon, South Korea, in August, 1950, now is living in a small tent. His former quarters were in the basement of a small building.

He said Dean told him he is now back to his normal weight. At the time of his capture, he was injured and was ill for some time after being made prisoner.

When tea first was sold in England in 1657, it cost from $30 to $50 a pound, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

confined to occasional cracked walls, falling bricks, sagging boards, and mental strain.

Oklahomans who had been in a state of continual fear since Tuesday evening when tornadoes were sighted throughout the state, forgot about the weather quickly.

The quake, felt from North Texas to Omaha and Des Moines, was called "one of the strongest ever recorded from the Western United States."

When the tremor was felt, some thought a bomb had exploded, a big truck had rumbled by, or someone was playing a practical joke.

W. H. Atkinson, a petroleum geologist, told reporters he took out earthquake insurance two months ago.

"That's one policy I'm glad I didn't collect on," he said.

On the lighter side, falling chips of plaster sent one woman scurrying upstairs.

"What in the world are you doing up here?" she demanded.

When he convinced her he didn't shake the house, she felt cheated.

"My first earthquake and I didn't know it happened," she moaned.

Mayor Allen Street of Oklahoma City called it a "good example of how quickly a major disaster could strike."

"Telephone lines," he said, "should be left open so emergency crews can be gotten together quickly. Turn on your radio and the answer to the question 'what happened?' will come quicker from that than anything else."

The quake was termed by seismologists as "moderately strong." It was felt in portions of six states.

4-H Leaders At Training Meet, Dinner

Six dairy leaders of Pettis County 4-H Clubs attended a dinner and leaders training meeting in Lee's Summit on April 7.

Those attending were Leonard Gross of Pacific, Robert Welliver of Flat Creek, Bill McCune of Manila, Russel Lewis of Van Natta, Harold Hinton of Bennet, and Ernest Schlobahn, Walnut Grove.

The training meeting, which followed a chicken dinner sponsored by the Sear's Foundation, was directed by E. T. Ischner, extension dairyman, and John Burkholder, state 4-H club agent.

The 27 dairy leaders from seven counties heard a discussion on project meeting procedure. This was especially helpful for the new leaders.

"While this suggested project meeting procedure may be altered to fit the situation," says Burkholder, "we do feel that this is a good guide. You will probably want to divide your meetings into two sessions—an instruction period and a business session. Usually the business session is begun with a progress report by each member and is followed with a discussion of some subject matter that was assigned to members in a previous meeting. The leader will want to check the member's project records also."

"It is important to check records every month to see that they are kept up to date. The failure to keep records up to date is probably one of the main causes of low club completions in the fall because it is difficult to work out an accurate late record. Now is the time to be working on 100 per cent completion. After the records are checked, the members should demonstrate an approved practice, usually the one learned at the preceding meeting."

"Then the leader should demonstrate the new practice that the members are to learn at this project meeting. In every case, the boys and girls should be shown how a job is done after it has been discussed. Following the leader's demonstration each member should actually perform the job. Boys and girls learn by doing."

Ischner and Burkholder pointed out that they aren't enough judging done in project work today. It is wise to judge some at every meeting. The leader will want to start by discussing one animal at a meeting. Then, at the next meetings, two animals can be discussed and so on until a full class is used. In most cases, the leader will close the instruction period with the assignments for the next meeting.

The business section should be presided over by the junior project chairman. This project chairman should be one of the older members and elected by the project group. Having a chairman not only helps develop leadership in young people, but also takes part of the burden from the project leader. The project chairman should be prepared to report on what has been done at each community meeting.

During the business session, the time and place of the meeting should be discussed. Also, demonstrations and demonstrators for community club meetings and county achievement days should be selected. Tours and exhibits could be planned. During the August and September meetings, plans for completing records and making final reports should be worked out.

Ischner pointed out that the projects should be held on the farm where the practice can actually be done. The members should make every effort to attend project meetings when they are called by the leader since leadership is voluntary and leaders are usually busy.

The Legend Of The Easter Lily

There are many legends of the lily and it is said that it is associated with Easter largely because the flowers are not set at any one angle, but project from the central stem in all directions. The resemblance of the tubular trumpet-shaped flower to the trumpets of the angels that announced in the four directions the story that Christ had arisen from the dead.

Another legend of the lily is that in the earth's beginning the Creator called all His flowers together saying "To each of you I will give a symbol of life which you are to carry into the gardens of men." Turning to the great, fragrant white lily he said: "You, lovely blossom, shall be the symbol that lives to lift man's soul to thoughts of purity and loveliness." And from that day to this, down thru the ages, have come stories of the lily's purifying influence upon mankind.

'No Progress' In Truce Talks For 5th Day

MUNSAN, Korea (P) — For the fifth straight day truce negotiators made no move toward ending the fighting in Korea.

They met and adjourned. That was all. Today's session lasted six minutes. That brought the grand total for five meetings this week to 30 minutes and 30 seconds.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang said Thursday the Communists had no objection to moving truce supervision negotiations back from the sub-delegation level to the staff officer level if the Allies want to do it. Wednesday Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison said the Allies have no objection to such a move if the Reds want to do it.

But neither side said it wanted to do that—or anything else. Each side appeared to be waiting for the other to take the initiative.

"If they want to," Harrison said after Thursday's session. "They can solve the problems just as well in sub-delegation meeting as in staff officers meetings."

That was a lot more than he said in the meeting. In the session he spoke only two words. When Hsieh suggested a recess until 11 a. m. Friday 9 p. m. Thursday, EST, Harrison said "I agree."

The meeting was stretched out to six minutes—third longest of the week—by a prepared statement from Hsieh. He said the way to settle everything was for the United Nations Command to agree to what the Communists wanted.

What the Reds want is the privilege of repairing military airfields during an armistice and acceptance of Soviet Russia as a "neutral nation" to help police the truce. The Allies are strongly opposed to both.

One other major stumbling block stands in the way of an armistice—how to exchange military prisoners. Staff officers handling this problem have been in recess since April 4, presumably studying a new approach which may solve the question.

Air Accidents Cause More Deaths Than War

WASHINGTON (P)—A series of military air accidents this month has claimed many more lives than are normally lost among U.S. fliers in Korea during the same period of time.

More than 50 persons have been killed or are missing already this month in domestic military plane crashes.

The Air Force said its casualties in Korea, since the start of the war in June, 1950, total 1,111. This includes 395 deaths in action or resulting from combat, an average of about 18 a month.

Blame Clouds In Air Collision Killing 12

CAMP EDWARDS, Mass. (P)—An unexpected cloud formation was blamed today for the collision of two Air Force planes traveling at more than 500 miles an hour over Cape Cod. Twelve Air Force men were killed.

A C-47 out of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, N.Y., carrying 10 men yesterday collided with an F-94 fighter carrying two men. Both planes were on training flights.

Infantry Warm In Sun as Air War Gets Hot

SEOUL, Korea (P) — Allied infantrymen basked in warm spring sunshine today as U.N. aircraft hammered Red supply lines and installations in North Korea.

Action along the battlefield continued light. A U.S. Eighth Army briefing officer said Wednesday was one of the most inactive since mid-February. The temperature went above 80 for the first time this year Wednesday and continued warm Thursday.

Allied planes patrolled in clear skies Thursday morning, hitting rail lines and supply dumps. B-26 light bombers and Marine planes flew 75 sorties against Communist highways Wednesday night. Twelve B-29 Superforts made night attacks on Red rail bridges, railroad marshalling yards and troop concentrations behind the lines.

The Eighth Army announced that U.N. ground forces inflicted 2,680 Communist casualties last week. The claims listed 1,388 Reds killed, 1,124 wounded, and 48 taken prisoner.

House Members Go Home to Tell How They Cut Budgets

WASHINGTON (P)—Many House members headed home today for a 12-day Easter recess, eager to tell constituents how they cut more than six billion dollars from President Truman's appropriation requests.

Immediately after slashing $4,713,845,218 from the $50,900,000,000 military bill and cut indebtness, spending next year by a total of $1.2 billion, the House late yesterday voted to take an Easter holiday.

After today's no-business session, the House will have no more business meetings until April 2. The Senate has no definite holiday plans, but there's an understanding that no business will be transacted until next Wednesday.

Queen Juliana Flabbergasted President Harry S. Truman

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Hill Syndicate, Inc.)

Police Chief Faces Jail

More than two years ago, Drew Pearson, probing crime in California, dropped in at the recorder of deeds office in Fresno and asked to see the recorded property of the city's police chief, Ray T. Wallace. He found that Wallace, making a salary of only $450 a month, had accumulated 16 ranches totalling 1,742 acres, plus three city lots, a hotel, a restaurant, and a tire-cap shop.

On Jan. 24, 1950, Pearson printed these and other amazing facts about the way crime ran riot in that part of California — facts which local papers had scarcely touched. He charged that Wallace was getting protection money and urged an income-tax investigation.

Last week, more than two years later, Wallace went into federal court, pled guilty to tax evasion, faces 2 years and a $20,000 fine.

WASHINGTON — Queen Juliana of Holland made a hit everywhere she went, but with no one more than Harry Truman himself. She flabbergasted, but pleased HST by telling him at a farewell dinner party that historians would record him and Dean Acheson as doing more than any two men in this era to stop Communism in western Europe. . . . "I wish," mused the man who has taken more of a beating than any other recent President, "that I could be around to read the history books."

Big Army Shakeup — General Eisenhower and Gen. Omar Bradley, though greatly respecting each other, nonetheless are a wee bit miffed at each other. One irritant was Omar's penetrating book, probably the frankest book of the war, which Ike didn't especially care for. More recently Ike has been irked over Bradley's thumbs-down on Gen. Al Gruenther to step into Ike's shoes. . . . Bradley says Gruenther hasn't had field duty and no man should take over the vital west European command without it. Instead he wants to put Gruenther in command of the Army ground forces replacing Gen. Mark Clark, send Clark to replace Ridgway in Korea, send Ridgway to replace Ike in Paris. Later, Bradley thinks, Gruenther would make a good chief of staff. . . . Means Secretary Lovett was greatly impressed with Gruenther's testimony before the Senate, while Dutch foreign minister Dirk Stikker has put in a strong plug for Gruenther, called him a brilliant diplomat and soldier. Stikker even told Lovett that he had the word of a temperamental Field Marshal Montgomery that Monty would serve under Gruenther in Europe without griping.

The Veep's Women — Vice President Barkley's womenfolk don't agree about his running for President. Mrs. Barkley is for it. So is Mrs. Max Truitt, the daughter who formerly served as his official hostess, and whose husband made a small fortune handling legal business for three of the world's top distillers. However, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, another daughter, is opposed, feels the strain would wear out her 74-year-old father. . . . Mrs. MacArthur is married to a state department official, the nephew and namesake of the general. Ed Sullivan Comes First — Marian Anderson, famed Negro soprano, got her biggest tribute when the late Harold Ickes invited her to the steps of the Lincoln Memorial on Easter Sunday, 1939. She had been barred from Constitution Hall by the DAR, so Ickes gave her the sacred platform in front of the statue of the man who freed her race. This Easter Sunday Miss Anderson was asked to sing before the Lincoln Memorial in memory of Harold Ickes — one week later.

Kefauver's Gallop — Truman's strategy for stopping Kefauver is again — at a memorial service for the man who championed her right to sing. She declined. A previous commitment to appear on Ed Sullivan's TV show was the excuse. . . . Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman begged, cajoled, offered to fly her in a special plane from Washington at 3 p. m. to New York in time for the TV show at 8 p. m. She declined. Rehearsals were the excuse. . . . Ed Sullivan, it was explained, wouldn't release her. . . . Finally Secretary Chapman switched the date to the Sunday after Easter, and Marian Anderson has now consented to sing. The strategy was to put favorite sons in each state primary, then throw their votes to a candidate chosen by the President and the party bosses at the convention. However, they underestimated Kefauver's vigor, sex appeal and general popularity. He has now bagged so many delegates that he will be hard to stop.

Biggest point about Kefauver which Democratic chieftains seem to miss is that the people want a genuine cleanup of corruption, and they know Kefauver started pitching two years before anyone else. . . . The Merry-Go-Round postcard poll now shows him running over 60 per cent among Democratic hopefuls. Eisenhower ran 49 per cent. . . . You can vote in the Merry-Go-Round poll by sending a postcard to Box 1952, Washington. Write the name of your Democratic candidate on the back.

Morris's Father-in-law — Two men who didn't get to be supreme court justices were directly and indirectly involved in the McGrath-Newbold Morris controversy. One was Howard McGrath himself, who, when made attorney-general two years ago, confidently expected to get the next supreme court vacancy. . . . The other was Judge Learned Hand, recently retired from the U. S. Court of Appeals and one of the great judges of recent decades. Not involved in the dispute, Hand is Morris's father-in-law, gave advice and moral backing. . . . Hand is a Republican, so couldn't make the court under Democratic presidents. McGrath didn't make the court either, first because Justice Stanley Reed, expected to retire for health, recovered; second, because McGrath did so much marking time waiting for the court job that his justice department fell to pieces. . . . On the credit side of McGrath's career is a fine record in antitrust suits and civil liberties. He never flinched at big business cases, nor hesitated to throw justice department weight behind religious and racial minorities.

Dirty Linen For Royalty — The Queen of Holland really got a choice eyeful of American dirty linen. First, the President had a row with one of his cabinet officers while awaiting her at the airport. Later at the state dinner given in her honor, the same cabinet officer told guests how he was being persecuted. . . . Fortunately, McGrath didn't talk to many people at the dinner, but to a few he vehemently protested: "The White House clique is ganging up on me. They're trying to dump all the corruption from other departments into the justice department. Charlie Murphy even had the gall to want me to resign." . . . Howard has been under such a strain that friends were fearful he might suffer a nervous collapse. His edgy nerves were considered the reason for his indiscreet remarks before the House judiciary committee.

The Parent Education Group of Broadway School met Tuesday at the school at which time a covered dish luncheon was served.

The devotion was given by Mrs. William Bessmer.

THE STORY: Private Detective George Brandt has been hired to prevent the elopement of Marilyn Swarth with an ex-criminal called Chief Big Bear. After an unsuccessful attempt to see the ex-criminal at his symposium which proves to be a woman's symposium, George goes to his home address. The alleged fortune hunter is not at home, but George meets an attractive young woman who has an apartment on the same floor. She discloses that Big Bear's real name is Max Arno.

SO Chief Big Bear was Max Arno in private life. That cleared up one point. The young woman standing in the doorway facing George Kendall seemed to know a lot about Chief, or Max, whatever he was called. Who was the girl? "I saw two names downstairs by the doorbell, but I didn't think they were one person," George said. "I thought you were a friend of his." A gleam of suspicion seemed to flash from her eyes. "Did you want to see him about anything special?" "Well, I guess you'd call it special," George considered asking a man to give up pursuit of an heiress far from an everyday occurrence. "Why don't you go into Max's place and wait," she said. "He should be home soon. He has a morning class at his symposium." She crossed the hallway turned the knob and opened the door to George to enter. "Go in and sit down," she pointed to the living room. "Make yourself comfortable. I'll join you in a minute." George went into the living room of the apartment. He looked around the room. No woman could compare with this. It reflected elegance and expensive tastes from wall to wall. Max had certainly done all right with what he had. The divan and chairs were a rich, upstuck red. The rug was of here and straighten it out. Tell me, did you ever play a saxophone?" "The saxophone? No, whatever gave you that idea?" "You remind me a lot of a fellow I used to know. Of course, your nose is less dominant and his eyes were hazel, but yours are— She was close to him now, staring into his eyes and her hair brushed his cheek. "Yours are more of a blue so you couldn't be me," George frowned his drink. "You'll never become a successful alcoholic that way," she said. "Well, it isn't my life ambition," he replied. "Tell me all about your ambitions." She leaned closer and the lilac fragrance haunted him.

HE felt strange and uneasy. The girl was positively a vamp. She was confusing him, making him fluster and stutter, making him act as he had never acted before. "Do you think it's warm in here?" he said, still uninspired for words. "I hadn't noticed," she answered. "Maybe it's Mario Lanza. Can you dance?" She was changing the records. "A little," he said. "Good! Max is a wonderful guy but he's a wrestler at heart and when I can drag him on a dance floor, he's about as graceful as a tugboat. C'mon, junior, let's get on." "Are you crazy?" "It runs in the family. C'mon, you aren't going to chicken out on me, are you?" She pouted her lips. "But I can't dance that well," he protested. The girl picked up a record and glanced at the title. She frowned and rejected it. "That's awful. You wouldn't like that. Maybe you would rather have something sweet?" "I tell you—"

Hammers rang out as Sakon reached the summit of Golgotha. Jesus and two thieves, Dismas and Gestas, condemned to die with Him, were being nailed to their crosses.

Dark was the sky and bright the blood that trickled from the pierced palms and feet of the three men as the crosses were pushed upright into gaping holes.

A sign above Jesus' head cast a shadow on three soldiers rattling dice for the garments of the "Messiah." Sakon made out the words: "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews."

Cards Solve 'No-Hitter' Hurler, Win

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

Eddie (Austerly Program) Sawyer, the Philadelphia Phillies' manager, had a brand new problem on his mind today, one with the recurrence of a new one.

Remember Steve Riddick, the rookie who hurled the no-hitter against the St. Louis Cardinals the last time out? It turned out that he didn't have any Indian sign on the Red Birds, who proceeded to knock him out of the box in the sixth inning of yesterday's game, which the Cards went on to win, 8-6.

Riddick had been somewhat of a surprise to Sawyer, inasmuch as the rookie compiled only a 5-11 record with Baltimore last year. Sawyer doesn't intend to abandon Steve, though, although he has his fingers crossed that the no-hitter wasn't a fluke.

Then, while he was mulling over the shellacking Riddick took, Sawyer brought in his one-time reliever, Jim Konstanty. Two years ago, when Konstanty got in a ball game, he usually was the last pitcher in the Phillies' part of the line score, he was so effective.

Well, the aging Jim managed to fan Ed Rice, but was slapped for successive doubles by Gene Mauch and Cloyd Boyer, neither of whom is regarded as exactly a fence buster. Even with his strong striking hurlers, Sawyer was hoping that Konstanty would come back to his 1950 form when he won 10 games and compiled a 2.66 earned run average. Last year he won just four with an ERA of 4.03.

The cards even won the "B" game part of a doubleheader, whipping the Phils, 3-2, in a five-inning affair called by darkness. But the Cleveland Indians certainly have a hoo-doo on the New York Giants. The Tribe slapped down the New Yorkers for the 11th time in 13 meetings, 2-1, on only three hits. Ironically, the Giants got nine of the combined offerings of Bob Chalkers and Lefty Kerrigan.

In New York, the Giants got fairly encouraging news from Monte Irvin, who returned there last night for treatment of a fractured ankle.

Asked if he expected to play again this year, Monte replied: "Sure, in two or three months."

Then pointing to his toes and wiggling them under the white sock at the end of his cast, he said: "Look, I can wiggle my toes now."

The veteran Ken Raffensberger turned in a smooth performance yesterday for the Cincinnati Reds, although he didn't get credit for the Redlegs' 3-2 triumph over the Washington Senators. He went seven innings, but left the game with the count tied at 2-1. Niles Jordan, who relieved him, got credit for the victory.

All other major league clubs played minor league teams.

LaMotta Comeback Boosted by His Beating Hayes

DETROIT (P)—Jake La Motta's comeback express still thunders along today. The 30-year-old former middleweight champion battered his former conqueror, Norman Hayes, in a 10-round slugfest last night to grab a unanimous decision.

"Think I'll be ready for another fight in three weeks," said the Bronx bull who wants to fight once a month. No opponent has been named.

LaMotta, fighting in his "lucky city" of Detroit for the 20th time, was the same old shuffler and slugger. The crowd roared as he swapped whirlwind punches with Hayes for the last minute of most every round.

Detroit Red Wings Favored in Playoffs

MONTREAL (P)—The Detroit Red Wings, the powerful hockey machine that wrapped up the National Hockey League title without extraordinary excitement, ruled heavy favorites over the Montreal Canadiens in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup finals opening here tonight.

The Wings ran out the NHL schedule with 100 points, a margin of 2 over the second-place Canadiens.

The Wings capped this display of strength by unceremoniously mopping up Toronto Maple Leafs, 1951 Stanley Cup champions, in four straight games of their cup semifinal.

In the other half of the semifinal, the Canadiens needed the full seven games to overcome the Boston Bruins.

Sarazen's Ears Hear What? Snead Snap Old Hogan Jinx?

NEW YORK (P)—Gene Sarazen's super-sensitive ears heard something snap in the recent Masters Golf Tournament at Augusta, Ga. What was it?

It may have been Ben Hogan's reign as the kingpin of American golf, the chunky squire from Germantown, N. Y., said today. It may have been the nerve-jarring

First Moves Made to Get Davis Cup

NEW YORK (P)—It is good to get back home from the baseball camps and learn that the nation's tennis leaders have made their first important move toward winning the Davis Cup back from the Australians next winter.

Preparing our athletes mentally for the struggle to come, the tennis association, through Harold A. Lehair, the chairman of its rules committee, has formally notified each and every one of the scamps that he had better observe the so-called eight-week rule this summer—or else.

The rule in question, which was abolished by England last year and never was heard of in Australia, stipulates that a player may draw expenses in only eight tournaments outside the various national championships and five sectional events—scarcely sufficient to get a boy well warmed up.

After warning the miscreants that they needn't try to get around the edict by hiding out in rooming houses and private homes during a tournament and pretending not to know where their next meal is coming from, the letter from Lehair concludes in fatherly fashion: "These rules will be strictly enforced."

That should do it, any tennis player who isn't ready and anxious to throw himself into the struggle against the Aussies after he has received such a ringing call to duty isn't worthy of representing the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association anyway.

It probably should be added that this is only the present writer's personal opinion and is not shared by everyone who loves the game. In fact, some of the younger members of the association made nuisances of themselves at the last annual meeting by arguing that the eight-week rule should be wiped out and our players permitted to compete on even terms with the rest of the tennis world.

They made it sound pretty convincing, too, until the older and wiser members stood up and took their licks. But for the rule, they pointed out, some of our youth might develop into regular tennis bums, just following the sun from clime to clime all year and playing tennis.

A vote retained the rule by a wide margin. The stroke for purity in athletics did not receive the attention it deserved at the time because Frank Shields, our Davis Cup captain, chose the same meeting to knock one of his players, Dick Savitt.

Sooner Jumpers Set New Marks

NORMAN, Okla. (P)—Neville Price, smooth performing broad jump ace from South Africa, and Dick Jones, a lanky Sooner high jump artist, shared meet records yesterday for the University of Oklahoma as the Sooners toppled Kansas State tracksters 77-5-6 to 53-1-6.

Price jumped 23 feet, 7 ins., one eighth of an inch better than the old mark set by Oklahoma's Cliff Ford in 1932.

Jones leaped 6 feet 5 1/2 at the high jump post. The old mark was 6 feet 4 1/2, set in 1930 by Parker Shelby, also a Sooner.

Ronnie Dobson scored a double win for Oklahoma in both the high and low hurdle events.

Tam's Big Purse For Golfers Goes Up to $120,000

CHICAGO (P)—Golf's sugar daddy, George S. May, has boosted the total purse for his Tam O'Shanter tournaments this summer to $120,000.

For the last dozen years, May has held the distinction of staging the world's richest golf meets. So the only records he has to break are his own.

Last year his jamboree had a modest prize list of $77,000 and he did quite well in attracting the game's greatest stars and hordes of spectators to watch them.

Robinson, busy taping his hands, nodded.

"I'm much better now than I was for Olson," he said. "Of course, that's not much to compare with."

How soon before he quits? "Sooner than a lot of people think," he replied.

After the European trip he plans next summer?

"Maybe," he said.

Rocky Plans To Hit First, Power Or No

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (P)—Does Rocky Graziano still hit as hard as ever, or has some of the power gone out of his famed right hand wallop?

"Man, I don't aim to find out," said Sugar Ray Robinson. "I'm going to try and get the first punch in."

"He always could punch with his right," said the sleek Harlemite, "and I'm going to watch out. Of course, we're both down down but you gotta watch them punches."

Then the middleweight champion, who defends his crown against the New York slugger in Chicago next Wednesday, went out and showed some of the fastest hands we've seen in a long time.

He punched faster than we've seen him hit since that last flurry that stopped Randy Turpin in the 10th round at the Polo Grounds last September.

Against sparmates Al Mobley and Vern Lester he fought only in spurts. When the television men turned on their cameras, he lashed out. As soon as the cameras stopped whirring, he eased off.

He crossed his right like a streak and shot over some short left hooks in the old Robinson manner. He was accurate when he wanted to be. There wasn't the slightest resemblance to the rusty swinger who missed so badly against Boby Olson in San Francisco last month.

"Man, I sure missed out there," said Robinson. "I missed him by at least three feet at times. I couldn't have missed any worse unless he jumped out of the ring. That long layoff after the Turpin fight was too much."

"If he looks as bad against Graziano," interjected manager George Gairford, "as he did against Olson, I'm gonna make him quit."

Robinson, busy taping his hands, nodded.

"I'm much better now than I was for Olson," he said. "Of course, that's not much to compare with."

How soon before he quits? "Sooner than a lot of people think," he replied.

U.S. Economy Strong, Yet Prices Weaken

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics said today the national economy is strong despite some recent weakening in prices.

In a forecast of market prospects for farm products, the bureau listed these factors as indicating the nation's economy will continue operating in high gear:

1. Industrial production is up from January and February levels.
2. Employment remains virtually unchanged.
3. Personal incomes continue near high levels of recent months.
4. The defense program is still expanding.

"Available information for the first part of the quarter indicates," the bureau said, "that national security spending may be up approximately four billion dollars from the annual rate of 44 billion dollars in the fourth quarter of 1951."

"Evidently business investment also rose, according to surveys of plans for capital expansion, and indications are that new construction expenditures averaged around 5 per cent above the fourth quarter."

The bureau said that apparently rising incomes are resulting in some increase in consumer buying.

"With prospects for higher wage rates in the steel industry and some other major industries, consumer incomes are expected to continue to rise," the agency said.

It added, however, that wage increases may not be as general this spring as last, because of slackness in some industries, particularly those producing non-durable goods.

The bureau said farm marketing of food and fiber in the first quarter of this year were running about 5 per cent larger than last year.

It gave this summary of the food and farm product supply and price outlook:

Meat—Production is running substantially higher than a year ago and probably will continue higher for the remainder of this year.

Dairy products—Demand continues strong and prices for the rest of 1952 probably will be equal to or above those of 1951.

Eggs—Production is up 9 per cent from last year. The spring price decline has about run its course, but prices are expected to continue below last year's levels.

Wheat—Domestic and export sales running at highest level since 1948.

Canned vegetables—Stocks are appreciably larger than a year ago and prices of truck crops for processing are expected to average somewhat lower than a year ago.

Dry beans—Production this year may fall short of expected demand.

Livestock feed grains—Demand expected to continue strong over the next several months, but relatively unfavorable producer prices of hogs and poultry may tend to weaken demand later in the year.

Spring Turns Businessmen's Minds to Novelty Innovations

NEW YORK (AP)—In the spring a banker's merchant, engineer's railroad man's, salve salesman's home gardener's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of novelty. And some are pretty good. Thus:

Banks should have a vice president in charge of robberies—prevention, preferably.

Railroad cars should have an improved lavatory foot pedal mechanism.

Store delivery trucks should have 2-way radio communication systems to deal with the situation when the man of the house answers the doorbell and says, "what the —!"

Engineers should teach their secretaries a thing or two.

Home gardeners should apply this or that growth stimulator—and then run for cover or else get crushed by the burgeoning growth of foliage, vegetables and fruit.

It's spring, or thereabouts, and all the above ideas are budding, one place or another in this great land of ours.

The banking suggestion comes from the American Bankers Association's insurance and protective department.

"Protection is a vital part of life," says ABA. "Mechanical installations aren't enough. A bank protective program to be reliable and dependable requires personal attention 24 hours a day."

ABA urges banks to name an officer, preferably one who is interested in foiling crimes, to co-operate with the police and teach bank personnel how to deal with hold-up men, check forgers, swindlers and sneak thieves.

Gunshot Wound Cures Burglar's Thyroid

ST. ALBANS, England (AP)—A shotgun blast that wounded an accused burglar really did him a good turn—it cured his thyroid gland disorder, his attorney told a court.

The defendant, 34-year-old Frederick Thompson, needed an operation on his thyroid, but then he was shot in the back of the neck by a householder who caught him climbing through a window.

Presiding Judge J. Neville Gray was impressed by the shotgun cure. But he said he had another cure for the man's windo-climbing tendencies—four years' imprisonment.

Costa Rica Has No War Debt, No Army

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—In a war-minded world, Costa Rica looks strangely out of place.

The country of 900,000 has no war debt. It spends no money for possible future wars. It has no army.

Costa Ricans say they are too poor to afford an army so they get along with just a police force. But while the "Rich Coast" is poverty-stricken in trained divisions, it's still a bastion of democracy in Central America.

In the last war it provided raw materials for the U. S. war effort and set the pace for wartime inter-American co-operation by being the first American republic—including the U. S.—to declare war on Japan after Pearl Harbor.

Today it maintains its long democratic traditions by standing firm against Communist penetration in Central America. Uncle Sam is happy to have a democratic friend near his vital Panama Canal.

A department store in Allentown, Pa. (Hess Brothers) is installing 2-way radios in its delivery trucks so it can re-direct them, or deal with customer problems along the routes.

Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, has developed a plant food which the Naco Fertilizer Co. markets as Nurish, and says will give any dub gardener—window-box or large scale—a green thumb.

African natives who lather themselves with animal fats should be taught to use American vaseline instead, so thinks Basil Emery, a vice president of Chesapeake Manufacturing Co. He's heading for the back country with a series of short commercial films to show tribesmen the social advantages of non-rancid petroleum.

Well, it's spring, and time for a change.

economy. One of them has helped make the country self-sufficient in basic foodstuffs.

A national production committee determines the cost of producing basic foodstuffs and calculates a profit for the farmer on the basis of formulas related to the price indexes. The committee offers to buy foodstuffs at the set price and holds them for sale in special retail stores. The retail price is placed high enough to permit private merchants to sell at a profit but low enough to prevent profiteering.

Special retail stores are few in number and most consumers prefer privately owned stores for convenience sake. But the special stores always are available to them if the private merchant hikes his price too high.

Queen Buys Bubble Soap While Shopping

NEW YORK (AP)—Queen Juliana of The Netherlands leaves New York today, after two hectic days of official ceremonies and a third day of what constitutes fun for any woman—shopping.

Followed discreetly by two Secret Service men, the Queen made the rounds of some Fifth Avenue stores yesterday.

At Saks Fifth Avenue, she bought four large bottles of bubble soap, saying, "It's just what I've been looking for."

...and now it DEFIES SKIDS too!

New tread wipes a WET road so DRY you can light a match on it!

The tread of the new B.F. Goodrich "LIFE-SAVER" Tubeless Tire has thousands of flexible "grip blocks," so closely spaced you can hardly see them. They wipe a wet road so dry you can light a match on it—grip like a caterpillar tread. As a result, the "LIFE-SAVER" Tubeless Tire stops on wet pavement up to 20% quicker than other tires, has up to 40% more pulling power.

Under blowout conditions, "LIFE-SAVER" Tubeless Tire loses air so slowly, allows plenty of time for a safe stop. In case of puncture, gummy rubber under the tread seals against puncturing object, plugs hole when object is withdrawn.

Patents covering basic features of Tubeless Tires have been issued to The B.F. Goodrich Company by the U. S. Patent Office.

Korean Student Starts Newspaper

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—The Korean Messenger, a small four-page newspaper with an initial circulation of 1,000 and designed to be the voice of Korean students in this country, has made its debut under the editorship of Kyung Won Lee, of Seoul, Korea, a journalism student at West Virginia University.

Lee said this is the first publication to be edited by Korean students in the United States. He hopes it will provide a link between the Koreans and their homeland. The staff of the university's Daily Athenaeum assisted in preparation of the first issue.

Chances Good for Scandals To Be Talked to Early Grave

WASHINGTON (P)—Chances look good for the investigation of government corruption to be talked to death.

Even if the wheels started moving now, and they haven't, there wouldn't be much time for a thorough search. There are only eight months to election.

Although President Truman picked Judge James P. McGranery for attorney general last week it may be many weeks before he gets the job, if ever.

He can't get it unless the Senate approves. Before the Senate can vote the Senate Judiciary Committee will examine and question him, taking weeks, maybe.

In the course of those questions the investigation of government corruption may be lost sight of in the investigation of McGranery.

When it's all over, if the Senate disapproves, Truman will have to find another attorney general. This could go on indefinitely.

In the end McGranery may get Senate approval. That by no means starts the investigation going full swing.

Members of a House judiciary subcommittee are investigating the Justice Department and they may want a crack at McGranery, since he'd be boss of it.

The subcommittee may also question J. Edgar Hoover if McGranery goes ahead with his announced plan of having the FBI chief investigate corruption.

The questioning of Hoover probably will not be critical but will be done to find out how he feels about being No. 1 investigator of government.

As attorney general and head of the Justice Department, McGranery would have the right to tell Hoover to make the investigation.

But Hoover has hordes of friends in Congress and he's already on record as not wanting to spread the work of the FBI any further than it is now.

If Hoover gets involved in an investigation like this, he may get smeared by one side or the other, which is about the last thing he'd like since he's spent a lifetime building up the reputation of himself and the FBI.

And because he has powerful friends in Congress they'll probably be alert to see that he doesn't get into embarrassing situations, although Hoover himself hasn't said anything about McGranery's idea.

He hardly could say anything. So far as is known McGranery hasn't communicated his ideas to Hoover but only expressed them to newsmen.

Already a movement in Congress has started to keep Hoover out of the investigation-of-corruption assignment.

Steel Leader Says Truman Pays Off CIO

NEW YORK (P)—A steel industry spokesman asserted angrily last night that President Truman had abused his power, distorted facts and paid off a "debt to the CIO" in the steel dispute.

Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Company, called the government's seizure of the still mills a "corrupt political deal" and said:

"This evil deed, without precedent into embarrassing situations, although Hoover himself hasn't said anything about McGranery's idea.

He hardly could say anything. So far as is known McGranery hasn't communicated his ideas to Hoover but only expressed them to newsmen.

Already a movement in Congress has started to keep Hoover out of the investigation-of-corruption assignment.

dent in American history, discharged a political debt to the CIO.

"Phil Murray now gives Harry S. Truman a receipt marked, 'Paid in full'."

Randall's no - holds - barred address—industry's first formal comment on the seizure—was made over four major radio and four major television networks.

"The seizure, Randall said, was done 'without the slightest shadow of legal right.'"

He noted that Truman had said in his seizure announcement that the steel industry made $19.50 profit on each ton.

This, the steel spokesman said, was a "basic misrepresentation" and didn't include the fact "that he (Truman) takes at least two-thirds of that away in taxes."

He added: "The truth is that in terms of net profit, by which I mean the money the company has left after all costs are paid, the steel companies made—per ton—less than one-third of that $19.50 that the President talked about."

Elaborating on his "corrupt political deal" statement, Randall said one of the principals was the Wage Stabilization Board, which recommended a 17½ cents an hour wage increase for the CIO United Steelworkers.

Murray, CIO - USW President, called a strike after the industry refused to accept the recommendation without a $12 a ton increase in steel prices.

The public members of the industry - labor - public WSB panel, Randall asserted, were "public in name only—for Harry Truman knew in advance that they would not let Phil Murray down."

Scientist Tells of Terrible Cold, Winds Near North Pole

By JACK RYAN
FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — A scientist who spent nearly two weeks near the North Pole described yesterday the terrible struggle waged against hurricane force winds and bitter cold that froze kerosene solid.

The Norwegian-born scientist, Dr. Kaare Rodahl, was a member of the original three-man Air Force party that landed on an ice island near the pole to set up a semi-permanent weather observation station. He said that during the first week of their stay, the island was lashed by 100-mile-an-hour winds. The temperature was lower than 60 degrees below zero.

An Air Force C-47 on March 19 landed the three scientists on the island along with a considerable load of supplies. Then the plane and its three C-54 escort craft returned to a base in Greenland.

Dr. Rodahl said the three men

Cancer Crusade Workers Named: More Are Needed

The Pettis County Cancer Crusade is under way with J. W. Watts, county chairman, and Robert Wall, city chairman.

Under the city campaign the following appointments have been made:

Junior Chamber of Commerce members will conduct the solicitation in the downtown program; members of the Beta Tau chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority will handle the theater collections; Mrs. Ringer is in charge of the Cancer Crusade can collection; Ed Ringer, John Carroll and Aron Smith will take care of the industrial drive for contributions; Jack Delph is assigned to the school collections.

For Pettis County to complete its quota for the year of $3,289 many more workers are needed to assist the central committee in the residential areas, and anyone willing to help in this Cancer Crusade is asked to call 631 or 861.

This need for volunteer workers is critical, and any help in completing Pettis County's quota will serve to help prevent and to treat cancer cases in this community.

The club sang a number of songs and each answered roll call by a radio program each enjoyed. A history of the club was given by the following members: Mrs. H. L. Hill, Mrs. F. L. Bodenhamer, Mrs. W. E. Selken, and Mrs. J. J. Lamm. Windows and their treatments were discussed by Mrs. Fred Harsh and Mrs. Joe Merk.

Family Night Attended By 100 at Dresden

More than 100 persons attended the family night service at the Dresden Methodist Church Sunday night.

The MYF group under the direction of Mrs. R. M. Scott presented the play entitled, "It's the Only Day I Have." It was greatly enjoyed.

The Rev. Hollingsworth delivered the sermon following the lunch.

Mrs. Frank Van Natta, Mrs. Byron Oswald and Mrs. Charles Romig are in charge of the family night activities.

Pvt. Kenneth Mullins
At Ft. Riley, Kan.

FT. RILEY, Kan.—Pvt. Kenneth Mullins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Mullins, Route 3, Sedalia, is now receiving his basic training here in 10th Infantry Division.

The 19-year-old soldier has been assigned to Company K in 10th Division's 86th Regiment for 16 weeks of Infantry training.

On the fourth day of the stay on the island, a sudden gale sprang up within a period of 30 minutes. The wind grew in velocity until it reached a force of 70 miles an hour with gusts up to 100. Dr. Rodahl said. Powderly snow whipped up by the wind reduced visibility to zero.

The ice island is about five miles long, eight miles wide and 200 feet thick in places but it "jerked and twisted as the ice pack battered it from all sides," the scientist said.

"Above the roar of the gale, we could hear the pack grinding and roaring around our island. As pressure on the ice built up under the force of the wind, loud noises that sounded like cannon fire came from the ice floes."

The men could do nothing, he said, but crawl into their newly built shelter and cling to the canvas roof to keep it from blowing away.

The storm subsided in about 24 hours and the men resumed work on their shelter. They now have completed four snow-block buildings roofed with canvas. Tunnels connect the four rooms.

Tenth Rescue Squadron planes, flying a 2,500-mile "milk run" from Alaska, supplied the island with tons of stores and equipment, including 90 days rations, a generating plant, radio transmitting equipment to send out weather information and a snow wessel.

Dr. Rodahl said the ice island is drifting at the rate of about one mile per hour in the Polar Sea. The island at first was estimated to be about 90 miles from the North Pole but scientific observations have placed its present position as 120 miles from the pole.

Cancer 'Cure' Caution

Surgery and radiation, used singly or in combination, can cure most cases of early cancer. The American Cancer Society warns that any other claims of "cures" should be thoroughly investigated.

Total weight of iron and steel needed to make a 1500-horsepower Diesel freight locomotive is more than 200,000 pounds.

Texas has the largest total railway road mileage in the United States, with Illinois and Pennsylvania ranking next.

School Officials Oppose Public Funds For Religious Schools

BOSTON—The American Association of School Administrators (AASA) today opposed the use of public money to finance religious schools "either directly or indirectly."

The 5,000 school administrators and educators meeting in Boston joined with their colleagues who had met previously in regional conventions in Los Angeles and St. Louis, in passing a resolution in which they said:

"We respect the rights of groups, including religious denominations, to maintain their own schools so long as such schools meet the educational, health, and safety standards defined by the states in which they are located. We believe that these schools should be financed entirely by their own supporters. We therefore oppose all efforts to devote public funds to support these schools either directly or indirectly."

Among the 20 other resolutions which have now become official policy for the AASA were:

The barring of members of the Communist Party from employment in the schools.

Pledges of support to meet the personnel needs of the armed forces, provided there was "the least possible interruption of the high school and college careers of youth and with equity between the college and non-college groups;

Dream Car, Made of Wood, Needed for Pacific Islands

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—I'm thinking of a small one made largely of wood, with a few easily replaceable metal parts, to cut down the rust destruction," Thomas told reporters. "It's still in the think stage but I'm hoping some one will come along and work on the idea."

Francis B. Sayre, U. S. delegate on the Trusteeship Council, himself is not convinced much automotive power is necessary in the small islands.

He agreed, however, that if Thomas's rust-proof dream car could be developed it might find favor in other tropical areas.

The Russian delegate, who has an unkind word for every administering power, seized on Thomas's statement that coconut and other farming was done with ancient digging sticks and bush knives. The Soviet representative, A. A. Soldatov, was all for moving tractors, harrows and modern plows onto the islands.

Thomas told Soldatov and the council that if they put a plow to the land, they would start extensive leaching, burning and erosion. The soil is thin, humus is limited and rainfall is excessive. He pointed out the tropics yield fish, coconut, breadfruit, yams, bananas and tapioca so the natives never Little Thomas's dream car is a little work horse, made largely of wood, that can't be eaten away by rust in two or three years.

The former Democratic senator from Utah is now the U. S. civilian high commissioner for more than 1,460 American trusteeship islands spread out over three million square miles in the far Pacific.

Thomas took over his administration from the Navy in 1951. The Navy ran the island groups —The Marshalls, The Marianas and The Carolines—after the U. S. put them under the United Nations trusteeship system in 1947.

It may place the islands better to remind you that they include such spots as Saipan, Truk, Yap, Tinian and Kwajalein, all familiar from World War II days.

Thomas's little dream car cropped out of his first progress report as U. S. civilian administrator to the U. N. Trusteeship Council.

Part of his reporting job included showing the council delegates a short technicolor film of island life under the U. S. flag. Among other things it showed jeeps and Army trucks careening over a beautiful piece of highway.

This intrigued other council delegates, especially Australia's and New Zealand's, who have similar problems in administering their far Pacific island territories.

Thomas was fast and frank. The film, he explained, was made in 1949 and 1950. The hospitals, schools, and churches are still there. But that road—one the Navy built on Saipan for necessary operations—is gone, he admitted. It already is overgrown with tropical weeds and the jeeps have about disappeared, eaten up by rust which attacks metal fast in the steaming climate.

"If we are to have cars there, son and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burch were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Johnson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maloney of Syracuse.

Getting Arrested a Treat

LELAND, Miss. (AP)—Getting arrested about noon on Thursday is one of the nicest things happening to motorists passing through this Mississippi Delta town these days. Some unwary couple traveling with out-of-state license plates is pounced on by Police Officer W. G. Ray.

"You're under arrest," Ray announces. "Why?" the motorists ask in bewilderment.

Parrying the question, Ray ask if they are in a hurry. Most always the worrying couple says "No" and off to "trial" they go. Destination is not the jail house but the Leland Lions Club's weekly luncheon. The couple are told that for "punishment" they must enjoy the luncheon and accompanying shenanigans.

Afterwards, "sentence" is pronounced—the couple must promise to "come back this way again."

Earth deposited by glacial action and wind is known as "loess."

In the English system, a billion is a million millions, and written 1,000,000,000,000.

Lima has one of the world's most favorable climates, ranging from 60 to 80 degrees.

About one-fifth of the population of Florida owns motor cars.
